

The Virgin Coast Lipa Noi & Baan Taling Ngam

GRAPHIC ART & CONTENT BY GLENN R. WALLIS

South of Nathon, Samui's west coast draws out into a series of bays which overlook the spectacular Anghong Marine Park, offering the most idyllic locations to watch the sun set into the sea. This coast retains excellent seafood restaurants scattered amongst the beachside bungalows and the decadent resorts, making Lipa Noi and Taling Ngam undoubtedly two of the most popular areas for dining and choice of accommodations. For some alternative enjoyment, rent a jeep and explore the many side roads and small bay areas that make this one of the islands most attractive coastlines.

Getting there is about 30 minutes, however you will find yourself taking your time to enjoy some of the scenery that truly draws you into the beauty of this untouched part of Thailand.
